

Bio Anette Norgaard

Born on a small island in Denmark it felt like coming home when Anette moved to Manhattan - Another small island - however much more heavily populated.

With a Musical Theater degree from Denmark she set out to conquer the world and has in the last 10 years seen most of it, traveling the seven seas working on private yachts. Her family still lives in Denmark, and she has friends scattered all around the globe.

Anette has since childhood had a passion for music and theater and has devoted her life to living her dream.
